

The power of PINK

Are you impressed with our beautiful pink cover recognizing Breast Cancer Awareness month? I hope so, and I do hope you stop and read the pages that give you — both men and women — information that can save your life.

As a breast-cancer survivor myself I know the critical need for timely mammograms. I was getting my annual gynecology checkup when the doctor said: “I don’t like what I feel here; let’s go upstairs and get you a mammogram right away!” I did, and within a week, I was at the office of renowned breast surgeon Dr. Karen Kostroff, being tested for breast cancer. I was lucky; after surgery they told me I did have Stage One breast cancer, but that only radiation, and a daily pill, were necessary.

I tremble to think about what could have happened if I had not had that annual check up. No doubt my story would be very different. I urge everyone to be checked annually — yes, even men can have breast cancer.

Our writers have valuable information for you, so read it and take action right away!

I am proud and privileged to offer the critically important information you will find in the Pink issue — our first to be published under the Schneps Community News Group ownership. Read it, save it, and pass it along to a friend.

October is Breast Cancer Awareness Month, a time for us all to redouble our efforts to eradicate the second-leading killer of women in America.

Schneps Community News Group’s annual “Pink Paper” is dedicated to our local resources, researchers, support teams, and survivors — because we share the struggle, and are mindful of the sobering statistics and excruciating toll of this deadly disease. The American Cancer Society’s estimates for breast cancer in the United States for 2018 are:

- About 266,120 new cases of invasive breast cancer will be diagnosed in women in the United States, including 17,890 in New York.

- Approximately 40,920 women will die from breast cancer before the year’s end, including 2,390 in New York.

- One in eight American women will be diagnosed with the disease in her lifetime.

- Every two minutes, a woman in the U.S. is diagnosed with breast cancer.

- Every 13 minutes in the U.S., a woman dies of breast cancer in our country.

- About 85 percent of cases occur in women with no family history of breast cancer.

- At this time, there are more than 3.1 million people in the U.S. with a history of breast cancer, including women still being treated and those who have completed treatment.

Like most people, we have had friends and family battle cancer. Anyone who has watched the impact of this terrible disease on sufferers and their loved ones understands the urgency for a cure.

Some good news:

- There are more than 2.8-million breast-cancer survivors in the United States today.

- The five-year relative survival rate for female invasive-breast-cancer patients has jumped from 75 percent in the mid-1970s to 90 percent today.

These strides can be attributed to ordinary people who rise to the extraordinary occasion, demonstrating time and again the incredible strength and power of unity when affliction strikes.

Breast Cancer Awareness Month is an opportunity for our newspapers to share the stories of how local communities come together to battle breast cancer, and herald those suffering for the spirit needed to fight this disease during their difficult journey to good health.

We hope you enjoy our “Pink Paper” edition and its inspirational stories. If you are looking for additional details about breast cancer, opportunities to volunteer, or resources for someone fighting the disease, please reach out to the American Cancer Society at cancer.org/about-us/local/new-york.html.

NEW YORK CANCER & BLOOD SPECIALISTS

Breast Cancer: Treating the Whole Patient and Their Family for Life

New York Cancer & Blood Specialists doctors are not only recognized as experts by their colleagues but they're literally recognized by their patients in the neighborhood—patients with more time to live fuller lives while undergoing cancer treatment close to home.

Everything You Need to Conquer Breast Cancer

With over 40 years' experience, NYCBS breast cancer surgeon, Nella Shapiro, MD, explains the benefits of community-based cancer care: "Not only do we really know you, but we can provide anything you get at a large institution right in your own neighborhood. There's simply no need to travel for breast cancer care when you're sick."

And with nine ongoing breast cancer trials—including one offering a chemotherapy pill—NYCBS patients can access tomorrow's medicine today.

Several Breast Reconstruction Options

Unlike cancers involving internal organs, the removal of breast cancer often leaves patients with unwelcome physical changes. NYCBS offers its patients access to a full spectrum of breast reconstruction options—from breast implants to the cutting-edge, natural option of DIEP-Flap reconstruction. With few surgeons certified to perform it, DIEP-Flap reconstructs the breast using the patient's abdominal fat, skin, and blood vessels. Providing a "tummy tuck" bonus, DIEP-Flap gives the patient a new breast with feeling that is warm and natural-looking.

Multi-Generational Breast Cancer Care

NYCBS offers extensive genetics testing to all breast cancer patients—not only those with a family history—which can benefit their family as well.

Fifteen years ago, a then 80-year-old patient of Dr. Shapiro survived breast cancer. She is still living—as is her daughter, a 75-year-old current patient. And years after testing a male breast cancer patient's family, Dr. Shapiro still follows and treats his several children who share the same genetic mutation.

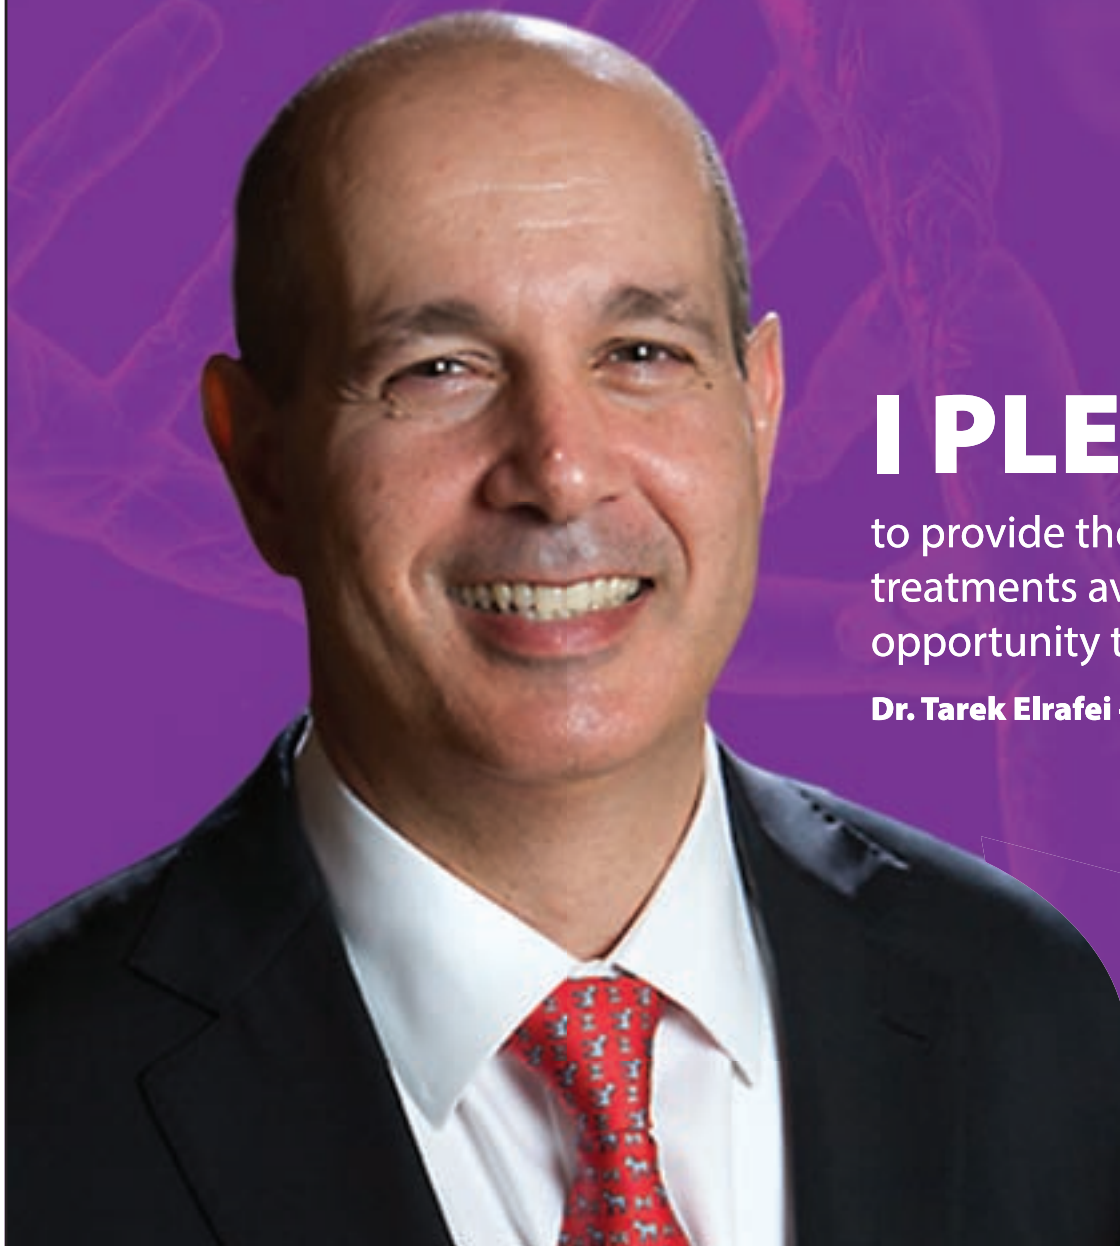

For Dr. Shapiro, there's something special about a small group practice where patients walk in and they're recognized. "It's more like a family than an institution. I get hugged all day."

With 25+ conveniently-located, community based cancer care centers throughout New York, NYCBS treats patients like neighbors, not numbers—offering comprehensive treatment for "conquering cancer, closer to home".

A GOOD 'SCOUT'

Bellevue Hospital Center's new high-tech probe helps surgeons

BY JAMES HARNEY

These days, to find a potentially cancerous breast tumor, surgeons at Bellevue Hospital Center simply "Scout" it out.

New high-tech equipment is in place in the breast surgery operating room at Bellevue that uses infrared rays to probe breasts for lesions that need to be surgically removed.

Dr. Kathie-Ann Joseph, Chief of Breast Surgery at Bellevue, explained that the new technology is called Savi Scout, and insisted it's the wave of the future in breast cancer surgery.

"When the patient has a lesion, you can't always feel it," said Dr. Joseph. "The surgeon needs to find out where that lesion is; this new technology can do that."

She said that previously, breast cancer patients needing surgery would have to arrive at the hospital early in the morning on the day of the operation to undergo needle location, a procedure in which a radiologist inserts a needle attached to a guide wire into a breast to find the lesions.

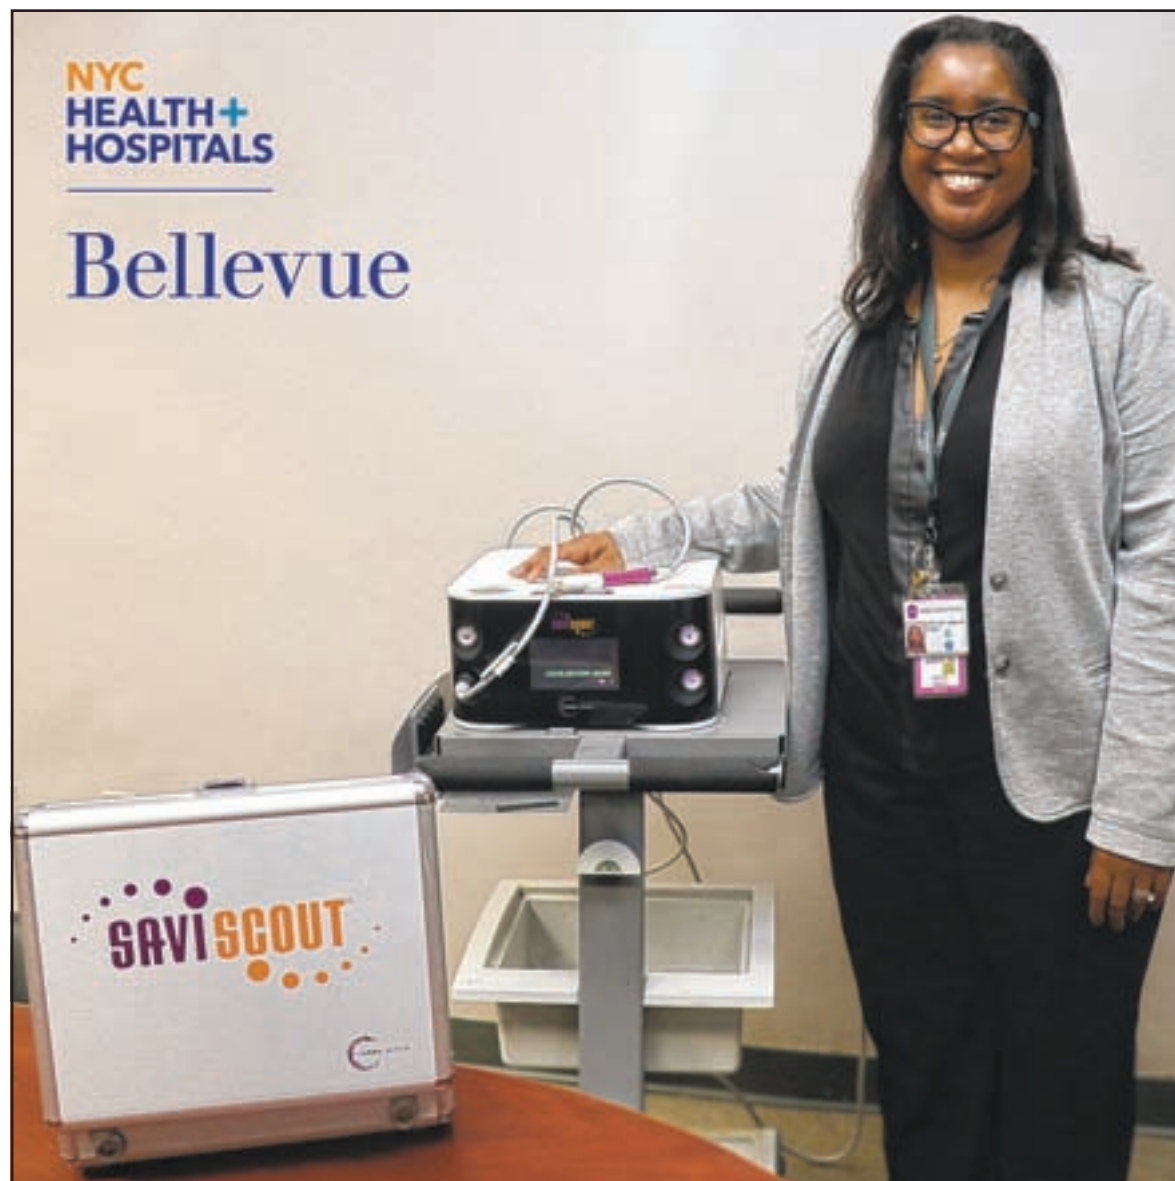

"The issue with needle location is if the lesion is in a difficult location, the procedure can take a lot longer than expected, and the patient could spend more time in the operating room than they need to," Joseph said. "That's inefficient, and leads to delays in surgery for the doctors."

With Savi Scout, she said, a radiologist inserts a small chip, called a reflector, into the breast of a surgical patient. This can be done under local anesthesia at any time — a week before, or even a day before — an operation.

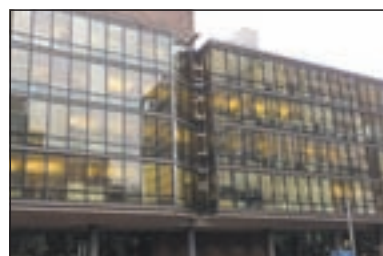

"We have a device that we use in the operating room that picks up a signal from the reflector to show the surgeon where [in the breast] the lesion is," Dr. Joseph said. "I like to say it tracks where lesions are much like a GPS system in your car tracks your destination."

"It's a procedure that's much more comfortable for the patient — they don't have that guide wire sticking out of their breast — and they don't have to come in hours earlier before surgery," she said. It also improves operating room efficiency, because surgeons can begin operating more quickly, and see more patients on any given day.

"The main thing we [surgeons] look at is what we call our 'first start' case, the first [surgical] case of the day," Dr. Joseph said. "if that [surgery] doesn't start on time, the rest of the cases will be delayed and our efficiency goes down. That's been largely eliminated by Savi Scout. It's safe to say that we've knocked down the time it takes to do an average breast surgery procedure from an hour to half that time."

Dr. Joseph said that since Bellevue brought the new technology on board, "65 percent of the cases that were previously handled with guide wires are now done with Savi Scout, and we expect that number to grow. It's state-of-the-art were excited about it."

She said that so far, Bellevue is the only city Health + Hospitals facility to use Savi Scout, but she expressed hope that others would follow suit.

"It's going to become the standard of care," said Dr. Joseph, who is also an Associate Professor of Surgery and Population Health at NYU Langone Health. "The major [breast cancer] academic centers are moving toward this type of system.

"Cancer patients are going through a stressful experience as it is," she said. "Anything we can do to make that experience less stressful is a good thing."

Bellevue Hospital Center, 462 First Avenue at 27th Street, Manhattan, is observing Breast Cancer Awareness Month by offering free mammograms at a health fair in the hospital lobby from 9 am to 2 pm Tuesday Oct. 30.

'Sally DAZ' killed by unknown assailant at a drive-thru

BY ALEX MITCHELL

Sylvester 'Sally DAZ' Zottola, a lifelong Pelham Bay resident was shot to death while sitting in a McDonald's drive thru line at 1625 Webster Avenue on Thursday, October 4 while returning home from a scheduled court appearance for an incident involving the illegal discharging of a weapon during a self-defense situation.

According to police, the shooter entered the McDonald's property through a hole in a fence from an adjacent property, fired multiple 9 millimeter rounds at the 71-year-old before escaping through the same fence opening, fleeing in a gray sedan. No arrests have been made yet.

Zottola was also arrested and charged with criminal possession of a weapon, reckless endangerment on June 12 after he fired his unlicensed handgun in front of his 2005 Hobart Avenue home in Pelham Bay while fending off a would-be assailant, police confirmed.

Sal, the owner of DAZ Amusement, had been attacked on two other occasions recently.

He was the victim of a violent attack and knife slashing in December of 2017.

His son, Salvatore Zottola, 41, survived an attempt on his own life on early Wednesday morning of July 11.

That shooting happened outside of Zottola's massive Locust Point compound on the corner of Tierney Place and Longstreet Avenue at approximately 6:40 a.m.

After taking bullets to the head, torso and hand, he was rushed to Jacobi Medical Center listed in 'critical, but stable condition.'

The father and son built the lavish waterfront complex where that shooting occurred.

DAZ Amusement rents juke boxes, electronic video games and games of chance, often referred to as Joker Poker machines, to restaurants, bars and private clubs.

Sal was a popular and well-respected Pelham Bayite whose generosity touched many lives.

For years he ran a much-anticipated, spectacular 4th of July block party on Wilkinson Avenue at Hobart Avenue. During the event Sal's juke boxes could be heard belting out the 'Oldies'. The July extravaganza was moved to the Locust Point property for a time until the Locust Point community had it halted due to its tremendous popularity and the impact it had on the tiny waterfront neighborhood.

He constructed rows of well-built attached 2- and 3- family homes on Hobart and Gillespie avenues in the 1990s.

Ralph Giordano Funeral Home, which handled Sal's final send off, was inundated with condolences for the beloved gentleman on its website.

Anthony Crescenzo wrote, "Sal was extremely instrumental and generous in supporting and advocating for the needs of the Pelham Bay community. My dad, Michael Crescenzo (past President of Pelham Bay Taxpayers Association) always spoke highly of Sal's generosity and commitment to Pelham Bay."

Sal was a prime supporter of Michael Crescenzo's Pelham Bay Games, an Olympics-like competition that was held for the young boys and girls of Pelham Bay and Country Club in Pelham Bay Park during the late 1980s.

John and Margaret Curcio, who knew Sal well, also shared fond thoughts. "He was a neighborhood person," Margaret said.

"He was a good man and great to the community, his children Debbie, Sal Jr. and Anthony were nothing but polite, respectful and so well raised," John said.

"That smile, that laughter, there will never be another Sal. He was the best neighbor anyone could ever ask for. Who could ever forget those 4th of July parties!" the Bastone family wrote on the Giordano website.

"I sure hope there is a jukebox with all your favorites songs, turned up loud so you can dance," Valerie Murphy wrote.

His wife Maria, who had passed away many years ago, was still the love of his life. His son Sal, Jr said, "Mom, he took care of us, so please take care of him".

Sal's Mass of Christian burial was held at St. Theresa's Church on Tuesday, October 9.

He was laid to rest at St. Raymond's Cemetery.

Zero carbons will not occur

Dear editor,

Governor Jerry Brown of California recently signed a bill that commits California to one hundred percent zero-carbon electricity by 2045. But he failed to include methane in the legislation, which is a much more potent greenhouse gas than carbon, and he continues to permit fracking for natural gas in California. News coverage of the bill portrays California as moving to 100% renewable energy, but this couldn't be further from the truth. California and New York are supposed to be climate leaders, but their energy policies are ignoring the devastation that methane pollution is wreaking on our planet.

Here in New York, Governor Cuomo oftens touts the state as a climate leader. But when it comes to energy policy, New York is falling behind. Progress with the states energy efficiency measures and renewable energy production has stagnated, while new construction and expansion of fossil-fuel based electricity generation continues.

Power plants that burn diesel fuel and natural gas, like the CPV plant recently built in Orange County, are being proposed all over New York State. If these plants go online, they will lock us into decades of greenhouse gas pollution—further igniting climate change, devastating our public health and economy, and jeopardizing the safety of New Yorkers. Natural gas transport pipelines, such as the Williams Pipeline proposed for New York City, similarly threaten the environment and public health and enable these power plants to operate.

If these two states want to be the climate leaders then California needs to ban fracking and New York needs to deny permitting of all new fossil fuel expansion. Coast to coast, we must move our nation to 100% clean, green, renewable energy now.

Legalize marijuana

Dear editor,

Legalization of marijuana in New York is long overdue. Consumption of marijuana for both medical and recreational use is part of mainstream America, transcending generations.

Creative entrepreneurs will always provide the citizens' desire, regardless of government approval. Consumers have voted with their dollars, making marijuana consumption a multi billion-dollar enterprise today. Legalize it and add a sales tax. Revenues will more than cover the costs of any abuse. Our tax dollars will be better used if police and judges spend more time prosecuting those who commit real crimes against individuals or property than going after those who consume or distribute marijuana.

Citizens have more to fear from murder, arson, rape, muggings, robberies, auto and identity theft or home break-ins than individuals who get high in the privacy of their own home. Law enforcement authorities should be free to pursue those who commit real crimes against citizens and property. Non-violent first time offenders locked up in prison could be paroled opening up space for those who commit real crime against society.

At 18, you are old enough to vote, consume alcohol, be a parent, pay taxes, own a car, take out a student loan, serve in the military and die for your country — but not consume marijuana. This makes no sense.

What consenting adults consume, inhale, perform, read or view in the privacy of their own home or private social club isn't the concern of government. Individual economic and civil liberties prosper best when government stays out of both the bedroom and marketplace.

Let us hope that we have finally learned from the obvious failures of prohibition. It is time to permit consenting adults to access any so-called illegal products or substances without fear from government harassment.

Ferry Point Civic Association

BY JOANN SOHMERS

After many years of trying to find a meeting place, an offer was made by Lynn Gerbino and the Throggs Neck Homeowners Association to share their meeting hall. We happily accepted and on Tuesday, September 25, it was held at the Villa Barone Manor. I would like to thank Lynn and the Throggs Neck Homeowners Association for allowing us this opportunity. Your kind and generous offer is very much appreciated. Going forward we will be holding our meetings once a month at that location. The next meeting will be Tuesday, October 30 at 7:30 p.m. at the Villa Barone Manor located at 737 Throggs Neck Expressway. I urge all Ferry Point residents to attend these meetings. It is to your benefit to learn what is going on in your neighborhood as well as the Throggs Neck community, to voice your concerns and to give input to topics raised. As a reminder, membership dues are $15 which will include a one year subscription to the Bronx Times.

At the September 25 meeting, police officer Santos, a 45th Precinct Neighborhood Coordination police officer explained how a more personal effort by the police department will be enforced to Sector A communities of which we are part of.

Alessandra Biaggi who is a candidate for Senate was present and gave an enthusiastic and informative presentation of her background, what she stands for and what she wants to accomplish. It was wonderful meeting some new and some familiar faces like James Vacca. Thank you Jimmy for reaching out to NYC Department of Transportation regarding our long standing request to remove the 'No Standing 10 pm to 5 am' signs on Brush Avenue. I am pleased to say that the signs will be removed shortly. Our petition signed by the residents was accepted by Community Board 10 and then passed onto DOT for their approval. Once removed, the residents of the many multi family homes will be able to park their vehicles near their homes as requested.

A special thank you to Captain Ghonz and Sergeant Lawyer of the 45th Precinct for responding to the disturbances caused by the many speeding cars emitting loud music and racing engines up and down Brush Avenue and the Hutchinson River Pkwy service road. These occurrences happen at all hours of the night and eventually end up by Ferry Point Park.

Your actions to combat this ongoing problem is very much appreciated. Our residents can now feel secure in knowing that the police are looking out for their safety and allow them to sleep soundly at night. Thank you to Tom Accomando for his constant efforts to stay on top of this situation.

Our Sunday, August 25 Block Party was successful and enjoyed by all. I would like to thank Marjorie Velazquez for attending and providing the Italian ices for the children. They enjoyed the treats immensely. Thank you also to Senator Jeff Klein, Councilman Mark Gjonaj and Assemblyman Michael Benedetto for stopping by.

I can be reached by email at jsohmers@gmail.com. Feel free to contact me if you have any questions or concerns.

Jail protestors occupy Mott Haven hearing

BY ALEX MITCHELL

Enraged protestors occupied a public hearing for the proposed Mott Haven jail at the Bronx County Building on Wednesday, October 3.

Continuing a half-year long series of protests and opposition to the proposal, Bronxites raucously disrupted the public hearing in defiance of the city's plan.

"We can't let them step all over us," said one of the protestors, Lisa Ortega.

Ortega, a known Bronx housing and community advocate said that she along with much of the opposition supports the shutdown of Rikers Island, but does not believe that a jail should be built in Mott Haven.

"We need things to make the community better and stronger, not jails," Ortega added.

Prior to and during the hearing, protestors joined Borough President Ruben Diaz, Jr. to send Mayor de Blasio a clear message.

"The administration must come to the table and engage with the community," Diaz said. The borough president went on to explain that he also unequivocally supports the phasing out and shutting down of Rikers Island but that the selected Mott Haven site is inappropriate.

Diaz and Congressman Jose E. Serrano collaborated with Bronx community groups and social justice advocates forming 'Justice for the Bronx,' a coalition to stop the Mott Haven jail.

The political duo previously joined in a massive protest in front of the NYPD tow pound that would be converted into a jail, on Tuesday, May 1.

Something else that the borough president has taken exception to with is the lack of transparency and open communication that a public works project like this is due.

When the plan was initially made public last February, Diaz and his administration learned about it through second-hand means.

Even City Council Speaker Corey Johnson acknowledged the foggy communication at the time. "We have to do a better job at keeping him [Diaz] in the loop and the local community boards," he said.

Since then, the city has held public information sessions regarding the proposed jail in addition to the October 3 public hearing.

None of which had received overall positive feedback, especially from the community board members that Johnson wants to improve a verbal relationship with.

One member of Community Board 1, Wally Nash, who has called Concord Avenue his home since his birth on November 21, 1944, said he would be face-to-face with the correctional facility if built.

Nash has opposed the jail from the get-go along with a distinct majority of CB1.

Diego Beekman Mutual Housing, a non-profit saving grace of Mott Haven had originally planned to acquire the lot, expanding their affordable housing services.

Beekman presented their plan to CB1 Thursday, May 31.

Said proposal would split the super-block containing the current tow pound into two halves, creating two distinct blocks, while expanding adjacent Wales Avenue as a vehicular street that would run through the new development down into East 141st Street.

Major parts of the redevelopment include converting the NYPD grounds and surrounding block into 533 housing units spread throughout 12 individual buildings.

After the city began eyeing the tow pound for a prison, it invited Diego Beekman to partner with it to create affordable housing on the site as well, according to Parks.

The next step in the uphill battle for the opposition is to have the proposed Mott Haven jail receive its own Uniform Land Use Review Procedure, separate from any other jail-related housing plan.

Currently, it's bundled in with a broader ULURP for each of the new, community-based jails that would come per de Blasio's phase out of Rikers Island.

Limo owner in deadly upstate crash has 'Bronx connection'

BY PATRICK ROCCHIO

The man who owns the limo company that was involved in a massive fatal crash in upstate New York worked in an FBI sting operation that targeted Bronx synagogues.

The owner of the derelict limo helped foil a plot to fire bomb two borough synagogues on May 20, 2009 when he led would-be bombers into the hands of waiting FBI agents.

According to published reports, Shahed Hussain, 62, the owner of the ill-fated Prestige Limousines, was the FBI informant known as 'Malik' who helped deter the bombings of Riverdale Temple and the Riverdale Jewish Center, both on Independence Avenue.

Four men were arrested and later found guilty of plotting to blow up the synagogue and the nearby Jewish community center —James Cromitie, Laguerre Payen, David Williams and Onta Williams. The foursome was also charged with planning to shoot down airplanes at Stewart Air National Guard Base in Newburg, NY.

The crash on Saturday, October 6 that involved a 2001 stretch Ford Excursion operated by the limousine company which was registered at a motel complex, under the business name Hasy Limos, killed 17 passengers, the driver and two pedestrians in a parking lot after the vehicle ran a stop sign in Schoharie, NY, according to published reports.

Hussain, who turned an FBI informant after authorities busted him in scam involving the NYS Department of Motor Vehicles in 2002, drove the suspects who were later convicted in a 2010 federal domestic terrorism trial to a borough synagogue in a vehicle that contained explosives. The conversation that took place in the car was tape-recorded, according to published reports.

Reports also stated that the FBI began using Hussain as an informant within the DMV, and that after several years doing that, he was paid a salary of $96,000 to investigative Newburg, NY area mosques and infiltrate individuals and groups of individuals who may have had radical notions — such as the need for jihad, or holy war.

The UK Daily Mail reported that FBI agent Robert Fueller stated he was sent to the mosque for a number of reasons that involved other FBI investigations, but that he also asked him to keep his ears open for any individual who was speaking radically, and that while everyone is entitled to free speech, he and the bureau wanted that information.

The UK Daily also reported that although his undercover work was valuable, he later came under scrutiny as a reliable informant and witness when at trial it was suggested that he might have switched off the tape recorder he was using at critical moments of the conversations with the would-be defendants.

The Rochester Democrat and Chronicle and USA Today Network reported that Hussain is currently in his native

Pakistan.

Newspaper accounts stated that a New York State police spokesman said that anyone found to have acted in a criminal manner in relation to the crash would be held accountable.

As of press time, a media outlet reported that Hussain's son, Nauman Hussain, had been arrested in Albany, NY and faces charges in the horrific tragedy.

Bronx woman urges advance breast cancer screenings

BY ALEX MITCHELL

Ask any medical professional and they will say that the key to toppling breast cancer is early awareness and routine check-ups. Pelham Gardens resident Sabitri Jaipersaud understands that truth first hand.

When the 53-year-old was pregnant over two decades ago, she initially noticed an abnormality on her breast.

"This was a time before the internet became what it is today, there wasn't so much information, I didn't know how to go about it," Sabitri said. Due to her pregnancy, Sabitri could not undergo an x-ray procedure.

She eventually sought help through the Montefiore Health System and a new, innovative mammography-screening program it had introduced called TMIST.

Short for Tomosynthesis Mammographic Imaging Screening Trial, it compares two types of digital mammography: tomosynthesis known as three-dimensional compared to conventional two-dimensional screenings. Sabitri ended up being a pioneer in the test of the newer, 3-D technology. Fortunately, in her case, the abnormality that was found had not been cancerous.

"To be a pioneer in that kind of research and technology is an awesome feeling," Sabitri said.

Years later, a healthy Sabitri would find herself working in the Montefiore Health System as an operations manager in its Department of Radiology, paying it forward and helping many women in situations similar to her own.

Personally, Sabitri even managed to detect cancer in a personal friend of hers.

"After (my friend) was pregnant, she noticed that she couldn't breast-feed at all, after a screening we detected the cancer and following an intense year of chemo, the screening saved her life," Sabitri said. "This is just one of many success stories I'm proud to have seen at Montefiore."

Practicing what she preaches, Sabitri now participates annually in screenings as part of keeping proper breast health.

Another major initiative of Sabitri and the rest of her care team is to spread awareness and information regarding breast cancer and its warning signs.

"I was in a situation where I didn't have the information that I needed, now we can change that and change lives," Sabitri said.

Some of that information that she is looking to spread is the steps and tips to self-monitor breast health.

"Self exams are very important, from that point if you notice something abnormal then get a screening," Sabitri said. "Be aware of abnormal changes in your body, if something is suspicious seek medical attention, the earlier the better," she added.

Sabitri is also a major advocate that all women should have access to screenings and mammograms.

"With the information we can spread awareness, we should be on the forefront of awareness and give widespread treatment for all women, at Montefiore I'm proud to say we do that," Sabitri said.

As part of breast cancer awareness month, Montefiore will be giving free screenings on Saturday, October 13 at its Eastchester Road campus.

Understanding the Early Signs of Alzheimer's Disease

The thought of Alzheimer's disease can make people feel fear. Some people worry about getting Alzheimer's in the future, others worry they might already have the disease. There are two steps you can take today that can ease the worry you may have about your own health or the health of a loved one.

The first step is becoming educated about the early signs of Alzheimer's disease. Understanding the early signs may help lead to a quicker diagnosis. Much has already been written about Alzheimer's disease, where the discussion tends to focus on early signs of memory loss and confusion. However, there are additional early signs that are not as well known.

- 1) Problems with language: repetition of questions or trouble finding the right word
- 2) Poor judgment: making bad or impulsive decisions
- 3) Changes in mood or personality: having erratic or extreme emotions (such as anger or fear) to situations, or noticeable changes in behavior or personality.
- 4) Withdrawal from social situations: losing interest or refusing to participate in social situations

Please note: Early signs may vary with each person and do not appear all at the same time.

The second step is making an appointment as soon as you can to talk to your doctor about your concerns. Your concerns may turn out to be a treatable condition not related to Alzheimer's. But if there is cause for concern, getting an early diagnosis of Alzheimer's can open doors to treatment options for symptoms and help prepare you for the road ahead.

If you're caring for someone who has, or who you believe has Alzheimer's disease, please don't hesitate to get help. You can start by contacting Sunnyside Community Services' free Care NYC program at 1-877-577-9337.

Making Strides Against Breast Cancer Walk Oct. 21

BY PATRICK ROCCHIO

The largest borough event honoring breast cancer survivors and raising money to find a cure is coming up.

The Making Strides Against Breast Cancer Walk, hosted by the American Cancer Society, will be held this year at Orchard Beach on Sunday, October 21. Registration begins at 8 a.m. and the walk is at 9:30 a.m.

Last year, more than 10,000 participants took part and raised more than $575,000 at the borough's event, said Nitisha Moore, American Cancer Society Bronx community development manager.

Moore said that teams of walkers have participated in the non-competitive event, including those formed by individuals, as well as from schools, churches, local businesses, community groups such as the NAACP, and participants in the Real Men Wear Pink campaign.

The walk takes place on a 3.2 mile route on the Orchard Beach Promenade and the adjacent and scenic Hunter Island nature trail, said Moore.

While there is no fee to register and the whole community is welcome to participate, the American Cancer Society would love those who take part to help with the fundraising, said Moore.

"Fundraising is not all we do but without it we can do nothing," said Moore.

The money raised at the Making Strides Against Breast Cancer Walk helps fund cancer research and programs, and helps people in the borough with cancer diagnosis, such as those who have lost their hair during treatment and need wigs that are provided at the organization's local headquarters at 2426 Eastchester Road, she said.

The raising of money is especially poignant in the borough where this fundraising takes on the form of a grassroots movement, rather than individuals writing checks.

"This just brings so much pride especially when you consider the median salary of many of our Bronx survivors," she said, "These are people who have passion and who care."

The people of the borough use their 'community know-how' to raise money.

"They sell cupcakes, they sell pink bracelets at their churches and workplaces, and we have some of our largest fundraisers in our schools."

Moore said that while many schools raise funds for the walk, which go entirely towards funding breast cancer research and programs for people with cancer, a shout out should go to P.S. 153 in Co-op City which has raised between $10,000 to $12,000 and holds an hour and a half dance to raise the funds.

Another of the biggest supporters of the Making Strides walk is NYPD Bronx Goes Pink, with borough police precincts signing up teams and holding a competition to see what precincts can raise the most money.

Historically borough cops raise between $15,000 and $20,000 each year, she said.

Montefiore is a huge supporter of the non-competitive Making Strides Against Breast Cancer Walk, which takes place all over the country, mostly on Sunday, October 21.

"Montefiore is our presenting sponsor," said Moore. "They sponsor our kickoff breakfast where we host all of our team leaders; they give us a $25,000 check and then raise another $20,000 within their system."

Avon is a national sponsor for the event, she said, and fields up to 300 participants for the borough's walk.

Moore said that pre-registration at www.makingstrideswalk.org/Bronx

A Making Strides Against Breast Cancer Walk introductory breakfast honors breast cancer survivors during a recent year's ceremony. Montefiore sponsored this year's breakfast.

WSBID walking tour exams its history; scavenger hunt

BY PATRICK ROCCHIO

A historical walking tour of points of interests is just one of a couple of engaging events being promoted for Westchester Square.

The historical walking tour covering about four square blocks and 350 years of the history of Westchester Square is being hosted by the Westchester Square Business Improvement District and led by 'expert tour guides' Nilka Martell and Angel Hernandez on Sunday, October 21 from noon to 3 p.m.

Additionally, there is a scavenger hunt that the public can participate in taking place from Sunday, October 14 and Friday, October 19 in which a series of riddles will be placed on the WSBID's website at wsbid.org, as well as being featured via the BID's Facebook, Instagram and Twitter accounts.

The scavenger hunt will test the public's knowledge of Westchester Square and its history and will present ten riddles, giving participants five days to complete their hunts by taking pictures of the answers and emailing them to mbrown.bid@gmail.com by 11:59 p.m. on October 19.

The historical tour comes on the heels of Westchester Square being declared one of the SIX to Celebrate neighborhoods by the Historic Districts Council for 2018, high-we are rich in history, which can make us a destination," said Sorin. "Having the Historic Districts Council designation puts the icing on the cake and part of this will be the tour which allows us to reach for the next level."

Martell said that the

"This is all in a four block radius around the Westchester Square train station," said Martell. "We will highlight historical sites and all the changes that is coming to the area."

Martell said that tour would include a spirited telling of the history of the Battle of Westchester Creek by Hernandez, a local historian who is noted for his passionate account of the battle, which provided an escape for General George Washington and the Continental Army to flee from the British.

"Angel is very animated when speaking about the Battle of Westchester Creek," said Martell, stressing her fellow tour guide's knowledge and enthusiasm.

She said she also expects that members of the East Bronx History Forum may join the tour and share their own research on the sites of interest.

After the short walking tour is concluded, guests will be invited into the historic Huntington Free Library building, completed in the 1890s, for light refreshments and to take a look at the landmark structure from the inside, she said.

Perhaps if events like the tour prove successful, the Square can get more resources to celebrate 350 years of history, explained Sorin.

"I would like to have a trolley tour of the historical sites in Westchester Square (and east Bronx) just like they have in the Longwood Historic District," said the BID director.

To participate in the Westchester Square walking tour, please register at wsbid.org or call (718) 597-4629 extension 200.

Additionally, the Westchester Square Business Improvement District is in the process of planning a Halloween celebration that will feature a haunted hayride and a headless horseman, Sorin said.

Groundbreaking breast cancer clinical trials at Montefiore

BY PATRICK ROCCHIO

Montefiore is doing its part to ensure that future generations of breast cancer survivors have an increasing selection of treatment options.

Montefiore is encouraging breast cancer patients to take part in a number of clinical trials that look to develop new and less invasive methods of treating the disease so that new generations of women have the opportunity to make better medical choices.

Dr. Sheldon Feldman, a surgeon who leads the breast cancer team at Montefiore, said that the hospital system is currently engaging in two new interesting clinical trials that may provide groundbreaking research that might someday develop into full-fledged new treatments.

Participation in clinical trials is strictly voluntary, and the goal of such trials is to make treatment better and easier, with less side effects, he said of the experimental medicine.

Many patients want to participate in clinical trials because they have daughters, sisters, granddaughters, and they want there to be less traumatic treatments for them or other women in the future, said Feldman.

Other patients realize that the only way to get answers into medical questions concerning breast cancer is to study questions and develop the best approach, the doctor added.

The decision to participate in clinical trials occurs on a case-by-case basis.

"For the vast majority of patients, we know the right approach," he said. "So we tell them what we think should be done, and then we also explain that we are a National Cancer Institute Center, we have a very active research program, and we are always trying to improve what we do."

Among the current clinical trials that Montefiore would like patients to take part in is an estrogen blocker inserted through the nipple of a breast that may provide localized treatment, and a trial that seeks to use medication that can literally shine a phosphorescent light onto where the margins are around cancerous cells so that no part of the a woman's lumpectomy may require follow-up surgery.

Feldman, chief of breast cancer surgery and surgery oncology and the chief of breast cancer services at Montefiore Einstein, said that the estrogen blocker seeks to handle breast cancer that is ductal, meaning that it starts in the milk ducts of the breast.

While the traditional approach has to been remove part of the breast, this may be able to be avoided if the estrogen blocker proves itself in clinical trial.

Currently, Montefiore's breast team is injecting patients with the estrogen blocker four to six week before surgery, and then at the time of scheduled surgery looking to see if the medicine was able to kill the cancer.

"The trial has been open in Montefiore for a year and we still have quite a few patients to study before we have definitive results, but initial results prove quite promising," said Feldman.

The second highlighted trial seeks to help ensure that surgeons remove enough healthy tissue around the cancer areas in the breast so that none of the cancerous cells are beyond the margins of the tissue removed.

Even using the best procedures currently, it is not possible to prove that the margins are totally clear of cancer because medical personnel cannot go cell by cell.

Dr. Sheldon Feldman, an internationally known surgeon and researcher, is conducting several important clinical trials that may help improve breast cancer outcomes at Montefiore and beyond.

In the trial, an experimental medication is injected into the bloodstream that makes cancerous cells phosphorescent, and they can be seen using an optical device where cancer areas emit a green glow.

"After we removed what we think is the bad part and can we look inside this camera and see if there is still cancer in the breast, and if there is a cancer there, we can remove that bright green spot," said the doctor.

Andre Trenier gets call for last-minute Yankees mural

BY ALEX MITCHELL

Andre Trenier finishing up his mural.

Community News Group/ Alex Mitchell

A remarkably executed mural of Reggie Jackson now stands proudly outside of Yankee Stadium, between Billy's and Stan's sports bars on River Avenue just in time for...a disappointing off-season.

Of course, prior to the New York Yankees 3-games-to-1 playoff defeat to an unnamed pair of colored socks from New England on Tuesday, October 9, there was a great deal of hype surrounding the Bronx Bombers and their legendary post season run.

Naturally, Dr. Cary Goodman, director of the 161st Street BID wanted to capitalize on the excitement at the time.

"We were thinking what better way to go into October than a mural of Mister October himself," Goodman said. He went on to explain that they really replaced a weathered mural of Reggie Jackson from some years ago, as he wanted to assure that Jackson had not been snubbed from the mural series of Yankee greats that surrounds 1 E. 161st Street.

In order to whip up the new shrine to number 44, Goodman gave a call to his own trusty right-hander, mural artist Andre Trenier, whom did the original tribute to Mr. October.

Needless to say, Trenier is no rookie when it comes to Yankee art.

The Kingsbridge native

also illustrated Roberto Clemente, Thurman Munson and Aaron Judge and now Reggie Jackson twice in addition to many other legends to wear the sacred pinstripes.

"It usually takes me about six hours to do one of these, sometimes more," Trenier said before the Yankees belted the Oakland A's 7-2 in the Wild Card game on Wednesday, October 3.

"I love doing these murals, I grew up loving the Yankees and we all know they're going to win tonight," Trenier added.

During that game, Trenier was pulling for Yankees catcher Gary Sanchez to have himself a great night on the field. Since Sanchez and Trenier designed a limited edition Yankees hat together during spring training a few seasons ago, it's no secret why Trenier was rooting on the stand-out catcher.

While Trenier was working on the mural throughout the night, the real Reggie Jackson was on the other side of the facade, throwing out the first pitch in what would be the Yankees only home win of the 2018 post season. Ironically, when the Yankees defeated Boston late in September during the regular season to clinch home-field advantage for the wild card game, Goodman managed to coordinate a 'pop up' parade on 48 hours notice for the Bronx Bombers playoff homecoming from Lou Gehrig to Babe Ruth Plazas.

Goodman is now working with the Yankees on arranging a much more elaborate and thoroughly planned parade for Opening Day, which is only 197 days away.

Bronx students learn about conservation right at home

BY PATRICK ROCCHIO

Dozens of borough high school students got to learn more about ecology this summer both in their communities, and in a handful of cases, at far-flung destinations.

Approximately 70 students from four borough high schools took part in a Student Conservation Association 'Community Crews' conservation program in July and August giving them experience working on environmental conservation projects in local parks including Van Cortlandt and Pelham Bay parks.

Additionally, select students, including Cardinal Hayes's Juan Tapia, visited a west coast park to hike, perform environmental conservation projects, and get in touch with nature as part of the SCA's National Crews program.

In Tapia's case, the SCA sent him to Olympic National Park in Washington state for two weeks of outdoors recreation.

Tapia told the Bronx Times that during the two-week excursion, the crew or group of students he was with did everything from conducting science experiments testing water samples to picking up trash that fell from ships passing by the oceanside park.

"Before taking this trip I had not considered studying biochemistry or going to a school of forestry, so this opened all of that up to me," said the Cardinal Hayes senior.

In addition to the two weeks of living in tents and taking in the landscape, he was afforded the opportunity to take an additional week of rest and relaxation in Washington state.

Last summer, another group from Bronx high schools, including Hayes and Aquinas high schools, Bronx Lab School, and Bronx Science participated in projects closer to home as part of local SCA crews.

The projects included building new hiking trails, rehabilitating existing trails, and installing water drainage structures in Pelham, Van Cortlandt, Riverdale and Bronx River parks, said John Donovan, SCA New York City program manager.

The local youth were between the ages of 15 and 19 years old.

The youth in the six week program in local parks, led by adult team leaders, removed invasive species of plants in order to allow native plants to grow, and removed trails that are not part of the New York City mark trail system, among other projects.

"They take away a lot from this and it is a pretty life-changing experience for the students," said Donovan. "We are getting them outside of their comfort zones... they are getting to work in a team with people they may or may not know, and we give them opportunities to be leaders throughout the summer."

The SCA supplied all participating students on their local crews this summer with new Timberland work boots. The program is replicated throughout the city and country, said Donovan, adding that the organization was founded in 1957.

The local students spent four days each week in the community parks, and on the fifth day of the week had an educational day that included financial literacy, ecological knowledge, trips to museums, a workshop on environmental justice and activism, and panels on conservation and green careers with different partners around the city.

Van Courtlandt Track Club helped survivor beat her breast cancer

BY ALEX MITCHELL

Returning from conquering the Chicago Marathon earlier this week, it's difficult to believe that 63-year-old Bette Clark was battling breast cancer just a few years ago.

It happened in 2006, just after the Yonkers resident discovered the Van Courtlandt Track Club and completed her first marathon.

Having lost her own mother to breast cancer as a young child, the news was chilling to Clark.

The tumor she had was 'hidden' and multiple scans were unable to detect anything cancerous at first.

Treatments were successful in remising the cancer, following a year of what Clark described as 'aggressive chemotherapy.'

"I lost my hair, I was always exhausted," Clark said.

When first diagnosed, Clark wanted to remain focused on running to stay as positive as possible, more than that the running community she had lately been introduced to her reciprocated the same actions.

"During the treatments other members of the Van Courtlandt Track Club would check up on me and helped me keep focused, even before I had the strength to run they would go on walks with me, anything to help and keep my mind right," the survivor added.

They even helped Clark come up with a metaphor to lift her through the intense chemo.

"In long distance running you push yourself mile by mile rather than sizing up the entire marathon, I started applying that to my treatments, if I could get through little bits at a time it would help keep my head focused," Clark said.

After one of the more difficult years of Clark's life, she wanted to do two things: keep running and help other women that have to endure breast cancer. She became a patient coordinator at both Lincoln and Jacobi hospitals, while also doing work with Einstein Bronx Oncology and the American Cancer Society.

More recently, she runs her own Psychology practice on the upper west side of Manhattan.

"I may not live in the Bronx but my life is certainly here," Clark joked. In one of the support groups that Clark worked with, she learned that one survivor was writing their life's story, which touched her personally.

"If having cancer taught me anything it is to be more adventurous and to take more risks," Clark said. She mentioned little things in her life she had been reluctant to do like driving in the city had no longer been as bothersome.

On a more major scale, Clark has set out to run the six major marathons around the world. She's completed: New York, Boston, Berlin, Tokyo, and most recently Chicago; all that's left to be run is London, which Clark aims to trot next spring.

In reflection, Clark was amazed by how the Bronx and Bette Clark during the Bronx 10 Mile run.

Courtesy of Bette Clark

Van Courtlandt Park changed her life and the way she approached challenges.

"The camaraderie is like nothing else, we push each other," Clark said as she recounted how the club's supporters turned the small stretch of the New York Marathon in the Bronx into one of the most raucous cheering stations in the entire race.

Clark hopes to attend the 16th annual Making Strides of the Bronx, a cancer walk at Orchard Beach put on by the American Cancer Society on Sunday, October 21.

Message from Councilman Mark Gjonaj

COUNCILMAN MARK GJONAJ

Recent reports coming out of Horizon Juvenile Center indicating that at least 16 corrections officers and an unknown number of children were hurt during a violent brawl at the facility reveal the city administration's stunning lack of preparedness.

These reports are deeply disturbing and should serve as a lesson that reforms must be made responsibly. During the juvenile justice committee hearing on Thursday, September 20 I warned that the city was more concerned with meeting a deadline than being properly prepared and that they were rushing to open up this new facility.

When faced with these questions an administration official replied: I am certain that come Monday, October 1, we will be ready.

As I said at that committee hearing, "the system is broken. We came up with a solution to fix the system, but it's the same individuals that have been working in that system that are now going to be used to correct the problems."

Simply relocating inmates and building new facilities, without making major changes, will not solve the issue. The challenge of reforming our city's prison system requires a complete structural overhaul.

Luckily none of the injuries appear to be serious according to reports, but I am fearful that the situation will deteriorate if changes are not made. At the hearing I said that "I would just hate the worst case scenario that a life was lost because we were not prepared, and whether it be a 16- or a 17-year-old or an administrator or a correction officer or some security or anyone else, that's going to be on someone's hands."

Earlier this week I met with the administration to discuss the events and their testimony in order to have a clear path forward. When asked about why the administration was not prepared despite being "certain" they would be, I was not able to get a definitive response.

Immediate action must be taken to correct this dangerous situation and all options should remain on the table.

"You can only get out of a community that which you put into it" – Councilman Mark Gjonaj

BY MARY JANE MUSANO

I think that many people do not realize that when we lose our senior electeds it is more than a loss of two good men that served our community well.

We also lose funding for things our community needs like after school programs, grants for civic associations, a new fire truck for Edgewater, decoy cars to help catch criminals that would steal our cars or wheels and great programs like the Primavera Italian Language Program for all children. Why? Because freshman electeds have not yet earned the ability to bring large funds to our community even if they wanted to.

The good news is that Congressman Joe Crowley and Senator Jeff Klein will be on the ballot in November so you can still vote for them. Your vote is important. Please be sure to vote in the November midterms. Let your voice be heard loud and clear.

The Primavera Italian Language Program is in trouble. This wonderful program, that includes all children, began 40 years ago. It was funded by Senator Vellera. For the past 20 years, both Crowley and Klein have sponsored the program. Both were defeated in the primary ries so now this very successful program is in jeopardy.

The program is held at St. Benedict's on Saturdays for 12 weeks and is free to all students.

Students learn the Italian language and culture and they are taught by licensed teachers. The children learn through a hands on approach. They learn by conversing in Italian, playing games, doing arts and crafts, going on trips, and eating and cooking Italian foods. The students love the program so much that they return to help younger students even after they graduate from the program.

At this time, John Cerini of Capital Shield and the Sons of Italy are trying to find sponsors for the program so that it can begin in November. If you would like to sponsor this wonderful program or donate any amount of money, call John Cerini at (718) 829-1040. You can also call me at (718) 792-6385. Remember, no amount of money is too small. If we all join together and give just a little bit we can save a great program that our children love! Thank you in advance for your generous support.

Next Meeting

Our next meeting will be on Tuesday, October 23 at 7:30 p.m. at the First Lutheran Church. Our guest speaker will be Councilman Mark Gjonaj. Please come with your questions and suggestions. Remember, our electeds work for us so do not be afraid to let your voice be heard. We need to work with our electeds to improve our quality of life and make our community the very best it can be. Be the squeaky wheel.

Have a few new events being held at the Post. The American Legion Riders will be hosting their annual bike event on Sunday, October 21, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. There will be music, food, bike competitions and fun for the kids, all for $20 a head $10 for riders, kids free up to 13.

On the Saturday, October 27 the Women Marines Association will be holding an anniversary luncheon from 1 to 4 p.m., $20 per person. For more info contact Colleen McCarthy at Colleenusmc1@aol.com.

The post Halloween party is also the same day at 7 p.m. till ..., costumes required, pot luck, bring a dish, prizes for best costume.

Getting a lil' head of myself but like to get the info out early: the Bronx Shore Kiwanis is holding a Thanksgiving Luncheon the Sunday after Thanksgiving at 2 p.m. for those that haven't had enough turkey. No charge, all they ask is that you bring an unwrapped toy that will go to the Toys For Tots Program.

Dues are due and we are asking that everyone pay by Sunday, December 1, mark your calendar. Membership cards are in, stop by and pick up and say hello. Marine Corps League Det. 255 meeting the second Wednesday of the month at 7 p.m., come check it out.

That's all I have for now, attend your meetings, stay in the loop. We are stronger as one, let's work together. God bless America!

NEW YORK CANCER & BLOOD SPECIALISTS

Breast Cancer: Fighting from the Trenches

When people are told they have breast cancer, they often worry first about how their cancer diagnosis and treatment will impact those who rely on them.

Fortunately, the days of inconvenient cancer treatments in distant institutions are over. NYCBS offers competitive, personal, and compassionate cancer care close to home—giving patients more time to live fuller lives while undergoing cancer treatment.

Where You're Seen First Matters

Time is critical in cancer care. NYCBS will see patients within 48 hours of diagnosis—sometimes before biopsy results come back. Expedited genetic testing is available. Patients receive a personal support team and a customized treatment plan tailored to both their cancer and their life.

At NYCBS, patients can begin treating their cancer in a cutting-edge, community-based cancer care center near their home—long before large, distant institutions will even see them.

NYCBS Doctors Do Hospital Rounds

Quality cancer care requires a 24/7 commitment. Patients hospitalized for chemotherapy complications want to see their own doctor.

Unfortunately, oncologists from large institutions—even those with a satellite office on Long Island—do not do local hospital rounds. Instead, unfamiliar doctors from “rounding services” usually see their hospitalized patients.

NYCBS doctors do rounds in all major hospitals on Long Island and throughout the NYC area. So, when a NYCBS patient is at their most vulnerable, their own oncologist (or another NYCBS doctor with access to the patient's entire chart and history) will be right there—in the trenches—providing care and support.

Fertility Preservation On-Site

Because certain breast cancer treatment protocols may compromise fertility, NYCBS refers interested pre-menopausal patients to reproductive endocrinologists for fertility preservation evaluations and/or egg-freezing. NYCBS also conveniently offers cutting-edge ovarian suppression injections right in the office to help protect the ovaries during chemotherapy. Because women shouldn't have to choose between fighting cancer and biological parenthood.

Men Get Breast Cancer, Too

Breast cancer is less prevalent in men and is often diagnosed later. Genetics can be a major factor and the risk increases with age, so genetic testing and breast self-exams are important for men. At NYCBS, male breast cancer patients benefit from the same level of cutting-edge cancer care as female patients.

9 Breast Cancer Clinical Trials

Today's standard cancer therapies all began as tightly-controlled clinical trials. With nine ongoing breast cancer trials, NYCBS patients get access to tomorrow's medicine today—either as a first line or secondary treatment option.

One NYCBS breast cancer trial offers a chemotherapy pill. Participation is limited to qualified patients whose oncologist determines this to be the most optimal treatment option.

While attending a San Antonio Breast Cancer Symposium, NYCBS oncologist, Dr. Yelda Nouri, learned of an exciting, new clinical trial for triple negative breast cancer. “One of my patients immediately came to mind as a perfect candidate,” she said. “I knew we had to bring this important trial to NYCBS patients—and we did.”

With 25+ conveniently-located, community-based cancer care centers throughout New York, NYCBS treats patients like neighbors, not numbers—offering comprehensive treatment for “conquering cancer, closer to home”.

The Chippewa Democratic Club, a Bronx institution since 1898 and currently representing the 82nd Assembly District, recently endorsed a slate of candidates for the upcoming Tuesday, November 6 general election. On the statewide level the Chippewa is supporting Andrew Cuomo, governor; Kathy Hochul, lieutenant governor; Letitia James, NYS attorney general; and Thomas DiNapoli for NYS comptroller. Closer to home we urge our readers to enthusiastically vote for our 7-term and very popular legislator, Michael R. Benedetto for NY Assembly. The Chippewa Democratic Club is not endorsing Congressional candidate Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez. Other endorsements are pending.

Civil Court/Supreme Court

The Chippewa also endorsed the following for Civil Court Judge: Naita A. Semaj, Connie Morales and Marissa Soto; and eight others for Supreme Court: Judges Robert E. Torres, Julio Rodriguez and Mary Ann Brigantti-Hughes for another Supreme Court term and judges Eddie J. McShan, Marsha Michael, Elizabeth A. Taylor, Llinet Rosado and Ben Barbato, Civil Court judges who are seeking a Supreme Court appointment.

County Committee Meeting

Bronx County Democratic Committee met at Assemblyman Marcos Crespo, along with the other county officers, who have run an inclusive political operation, making the Bronx the envy of our sister boroughs, easily crushed a small group of disaffected renegades, to retain their leadership positions for another year.

BY FRAN ARICO

Our last meeting was held on Wednesday, September 19 at the Knights of Columbus Hall 3243 Ampere Avenue (corner of Research Avenue). Our guest speakers were Community Board district manager, Matthew Cruz, Ted Pryor, Esq. and Councilman Mark Gjonaj.

We told Matthew Cruz about our petitions sent to NYC Department of Transportation. Petition #1 asks for a 4-way stop sign at Spencer and Stadium avenues which is a blind corner since we have the # 24 bus going north and turning east and the same #24 bus coming east and turning south which means the same bus is at the same corner 10-15 minutes later.

Petition #2 asks for speed bumps on Stadium Avenue between Griswold and Ampere avenues and Stadium Avenue between Ampere Avenue and Middletown Road. These petitions were forwarded a year ago and we still have not gotten any response as to when they will be put in. Stadium Avenue where we are requesting speed bumps is not a bus route as Matthew Cruz stated. It is imperative for the safety of everyone to have those speed bumps put in as soon as possible since those two streets on Stadium Avenue experience speeding cars, trucks and motorcycles since there is nothing to stop their speed, other

civic center
Spencer Estate Civic Association

streets in the community have speed bumps and do not have half the traffic Stadium Avenue has.

Councilman Mark Gjonaj was our guest speaker and was one of the best guest speakers we have had in a long time. He answered all the questions our members and guests asked him and he informed us of issues happening right in our neighborhood that we did not even know about. We ask all our community friends and visitors to please not give money to the homeless people in Spencer Estate or Pelham Bay Station because our area is getting to look degraded, there are homeless shelters and jobs for everyone. Look around you, handicap people with missing limbs get up and go to work, so there's no reason for the homeless to beg and we can only stop it in our area if you stop giving.

Gjonaj also stressed people should be ticketed who park on hydrants and block driveways. Those who own multiple family homes paying taxes on 1- and 2- family homes but renting them to 2, 3 and 4 families should also be fined. Anything building over two-family must have fire escapes, it's the law and we are here to enforce it for the safety of our community.

Councilman Mark Gjonaj hopes to be back at our next meeting with much more information and what we can do to help solve our community problems. Our meetings are held the 3rd Wednesday of the month at 7:15 p.m. and our next meeting is on Wednesday, October 17. Our dues are $10 per family annually and entitles you to a weekly subscription of the Bronx Times Reporter an informative paper with local and world news. Hoping you will join us to help make our community a better and safe place to live in. Coffee and cake is served at our meetings.

A big thanks to the Transit Pipe Band for leading us and looking and sounding great at the Morris Park Columbus Day Parade. I thank the parade committee for putting veterans up front for an early finish as promised. We even had a leprechaun show up. This Sunday, October 21, the third Sunday, is our regular Post 253 meeting, 10:30 a.m. start at American Turners. Friday, November 9, 9 a.m. Veterans Day Ceremony at P.S. 108, RSVP to me please at

Pelham Parkway Nursing Care and Rehabilitation Facility, LLC

We would like to introduce you to Pelham Parkway Nursing Care and Rehabilitation Facility, LLC. We are a 200 bed skilled nursing facility right here in the Pelham Parkway area of the Bronx. The same family has owned and operated Pelham for the past 40 years. We think of ourselves as part of the community and we make an effort to be a good neighbor. We sponsor Sons' of American Legion Post 156 Yearly Golf Outing, the Allerton Avenue Homeowners' Association, and we march every year in the Morris Park Columbus Day Parade. At Pelham we like to think of ourselves as a family and not as an institution. We view the residents and their family members as part of our family and we treat them accordingly.

When you place a loved one in our nursing facility, we know that this is a last resort based on an increasing need for nursing care which cannot be managed at home. We appreciate the trust you are placing in us and strive to earn it every day. Communication with family members and loved ones is a very important aspect of this trust. Each of our five units has a designated Registered Nurse Supervisor who maintains contact with the families and is available to answer any questions and resolve any problems. Our team of experienced and skilled social workers is always ready to listen and assist families with any problem. The doors to the Director of Nurses' and the Administrator's offices are open to residents and family members. They are available evenings and Sundays to meet with families.

Interdisciplinary care plan meetings are conducted for every resident and families are encouraged to attend and participate.

We have a beautiful, new state of the art Rehabilitation Room where we perform miracles daily under the supervision of our caring and skilled therapists. The Recreation Department at Pelham conducts programs seven days a week both daytime and evening time. There are parties, contests, trips, special dinners, barbecues, there is something for everyone. We have a comprehensive dementia program.

12th Annual Woodlawn Run for a Cause

The Twelfth Annual Woodlawn Run for a Cause ran through the streets of the Bronx and Yonkers on Saturday morning, September 15. Over 200 runners and walkers completed the 5K course. The race began at the Woodlawn Bus Circle and finished at Indian Field. The race was able to raise more than $18,000 that will be donated to two causes: Making Headway Foundation, an organization devoted to providing care and comfort for children with brain and spinal cord tumors while funding medical research geared to better treatments and a cure; and The Matthew Wallace Foundation, a non-profit founded in memory of teenager, Matthew Wallace, and dedicated to awarding 22 scholarships annually to students who exhibit traits of humility, courage, camaraderie, community service, and humanitarian interest. As Matthew believed that grades were not a true barometer of one's potential, grades are not weighed in the grantees' selection process.

The Woodlawn Run for a Cause has been a staple on the community's calendar for the past twelve years and the outpouring of support this year was as strong as ever. Hector Hernandez from the Bronx won the race with a time of 17:31. He was followed by Jono Ellis of Astoria with a time of 17:53 and Andrew Le of Glendale with a time of 19:15. The first female finisher was Gail Machado of Yonkers with a time of 19:16. Laura Rodriguez of Bronxville finished second with a time of 19:46, followed by Astoria resident Ashley Cammarota with a time of 20:18.

As has become tradition, following the main race, more than 25 children participated in the annual kids' fun run, and everyone walked away with a ribbon.

Over the course of the twelve years of the Woodlawn Run for a Cause, over 2,400 individuals have finished the 3.1 mile course. Including this year's event, more than $103,000 has been donated to the following charities: Families of Freedom Scholarship Fund, Children's Hospital at Montefiore Medical Center, Compassionate Care Hospice, Part of the Solution, Leukemia & Lymphoma Society, Calvary Hospital, Pulmonary Fibrosis Foundation, Bronx Community Health Network, Friends of Van Cortlandt Park, Mercy Center, Peace Outside Campus, Kalie Gill Family Foundation, National Brain Tumor Society, Ty Louis Campbell Foundation, HOPE Charity, Boomer Esiason Foundation, The Ronald McDonald House, Quinn for the Win, and Crohn's and Colitis Foundation, Making Headway Foundation and The Matthew Wallace Foundation.

BY FRANK V. VERNUCCIO, JR.

Judge Kavanaugh, in his rebuttal to Democrat attacks on his nomination, broke convention and cited Democrat goals to essentially overturn the results of the 2016 election. In the unlikely forum of a hearing to rule on a nomination for U.S. Supreme Court, an important threat to Constitutional order was given its greatest exposure.

The U.S. is not alone in this deterioration of democracy. In Europe, the European Union has engaged in tactics that replace rule by the people with rule by bureaucrats.

There is an extraordinary move by U.S. leftist elites to functionally ignore and overturn the results of the 2016 presidential election. The hard left, which has attained near-controlling influence over the lion's share of the media, academia, and the leadership of the Democrat Party has engaged in nearly every conceivable tactic, including violence in the streets, a false sense of hysteria created by the media, attempts by the Ninth Circuit Court to impose unconstitutional restraints on the lawful ability of the President to restrict potentially harmful travel from terrorist-infested lands, and illegal negotiations by out of office pols to conduct foreign affairs as though Obama was still in office.

This is greater than the normal roughhousing by Democrats against Republicans in the U.S. It is a rejection of the concept that the majority, not the elites, have the final say, and in the sanctity of the concept of recognizing the results of the ballot box.

The immediate aftermath of the 2016 presidential voting was violence in the streets, reportedly well-funded by leftist billionaires. That tactic continued into the inauguration itself. It was followed by attempts by Ninth Circuit judges to unlawfully hamper specific presidential directives on travel, and various moves by Democrat state attorneys general to engage the White House in groundless legal squabbles. Some Democrat-governed city and state governments sought to limit federal jurisdiction in immigration by declaring themselves "sanctuary" areas. The recommendation of former CIA director John Brennan, (who has admitted to voting for a Communist Party candidate for president) to federal employees to disregard the directives of President Trump is perhaps the most troubling and unsettling example of this entire strategy.

Community Action civic Association

A disturbing pattern of Democrat candidates for state attorney general openly campaigned on a platform of attacking the White House, an issue certainly outside of their job description. Sean Maloney, an unsuccessful Democrat primary candidate for NYS Attorney General campaigned, in numerous TV commercials, predominately on a platform of "fighting Trump." It's a reflection of the well-funded effort to offset the 2016 election results by any means necessary.

This cannot be seen solely as a Democrat vs. Republican issue. It must be understood as a move by the now hard-left dominated Democrat Party leadership to ignore the principles of the Constitution and the traditions of the American Republican in its bid to gain and keep power.

Obama made no secret of his contempt for the Constitution and the normal functioning of democracy. His belief that he didn't "have to wait for Congress," and his acting on that by enacting legislation-like executive orders, his signing off on what were, by any standard definition, major foreign treaties without the advice and consent of the Senate, his use of federal agencies to attack political rivals all attest to this. His presidency is over, but his leftist belief that the Constitution was an impediment that could be swept aside when convenient endures.

It follows a pattern that has become all too familiar over the past century in socialist nations. It is no coincidence that as socialism becomes more mainstream within the Democrat Party, elitist and historically familiar socialist tactics become more common. Soviet Bolsheviks, German National Socialists (Nazis) Chinese Communists, Cuban revolutionaries and Venezuelan Chavistas all engaged in a similar timeline. Allege to represent the poor or down-trodden, turn various segments of society against each other, and ignore democratic practices as a self-serving elite takes the reins of power under the pretense that they know better than the general public how to govern.

East Bronx History Forum highlights

BY THOMAS X. CASEY

The Huntington Free Library and Reading Room is proud to host the 133rd meeting of the East Bronx History Forum. This month's meeting will take place on Wednesday, October 17 at 7:30 p.m. The East Bronx History Forum meets to discuss Bronx History with all meetings free and open to the public. This month's guest will be Dr. Eric W. Sanderson, senior conservation ecologist with the Wildlife Conservation Society.

Dr. Sanderson will explore reconstructions of the historical ecology of the east Bronx through the Welikia Project. The Welikia Project grew out of the Mannahatta Project which sought to uncover the original ecology of Manhattan. The Welikia Project started in 2010, a decade after the Mannahatta Project with the goal of exploring the ecological findings of the Bronx, Brooklyn, Queens, Staten Island and the waters in-between. Welikia means 'my good home' in Lenape, the Native American language of the New York City region at the time of first contact with Europeans.

Dr. Sanderson will also reveal Mannahatta Project methods which were used as well with the start of the Welikia Project. In addition, there will be a review of historical maps of the East Bronx from the Bronx River to the Long Island Sound. He will also be giving a brief introduction to Visionmaker, a free online ecological tool for creating and sharing visions of New York City neighborhoods based on assessments of historical, current and future ecology. Dr. Sanderson received his Ph.D from the University of California, Davis in Ecosystem and Landscape Ecology and is the author of half a dozen books and numerous peer-reviewed publications, book chapters and technical reports.

All meetings are free and open to the public at the Huntington Free Library and Reading Room located next to Apple Bank at 9 Westchester Square. Street parking is free after 7 p.m.

BCC receives largest National Science Foundation grant

Bronx Community College will receive one of the largest grants ever awarded to a community college by the National Science Foundation—$5 million to fund scholarships for traditionally underrepresented students in the STEM fields of science, technology, engineering and math.

The NSF 'S-STEM' grant will fund a collaboration between Bronx Community and Lehman College to help support scholarships for 575 talented, low-income CUNY students.

The program, which began October 1, will provide students with paid research opportunities, internships and faculty mentoring as they earn associate's degrees at BCC. Students in the program can transfer to Lehman and continue their scholarships and work with new mentors, earn bachelor's degrees and prepare for STEM careers. The S-STEM scholarships will supplement the students' existing Pell Grants.

"This NSF S-STEM grant will reduce financial barriers and create greater access to STEM fields for talented women and minority students," said Vicki Flaris, a professor at Bronx Community College's chemistry department, who will oversee the program along with other faculty mentors.

Melrose Commons Vet Housing welcomes first residents

The first residents have moved into Melrose Commons Permanent Supportive Housing for Veterans, located in the northern portion of the Melrose Commons urban renewal area of the Bronx, announces Magnus Magnusson, AIA, founding principal of Magnusson Architecture and Planning PC (MAP).

In partnership with The Bridge, the new supportive housing building, located at 425 E. 161st Street, was designed for low-income tenants with serious mental illness and a history of chronic homelessness, with placement preference for veterans.

The building was designed at the same time as the adjacent family-housing building Elton Crossing; the two appear conjoined, although they are separate developments.

Melrose Commons Permanent Supportive Housing for Veterans offers 58 studio units, plus a community room with kitchen, computer lab, laundry room, and outdoor recreational space.

The building contains on-site case management services for the tenants through The Bridge, and 24/7 front desk coverage.

Temple Hatikva announces fall services and Adult Ed

Following its well-received High Holy Day Services, Temple Hatikva, located in Pelham Parkway, announces its schedule of monthly Fall Shabbat Services for the start of the new Jewish year 5779. In October, both the Shabbat Service and the Adult Education session will be focused on Israel. The community is welcome to attend share in prayer and fellowship with us on the following fall Fridays - October 19, November 9, and December 21. All services begin at 7:30 p.m.

Fitting the theme, "Celebrate ing 70 Years of the State of Israel,' the Torah reading at the October 19th service will deal with the coming of Abram to Canaan. Every Temple Hatikva service is followed by a strictly Kosher Oneg Shabbat, an opportunity to unwind from your busy week and begin the Shabbat with some challah, wine and other refreshments, while schmoozing with your area neighbors.

Temple Hatikva welcomes all those of the Jewish faith to attend our traditional, yet modern services in Hebrew and English, offering a meaningful experience to all, from strict observance to those with no synagogue background.

"For 70 years we have enjoyed the knowledge of a recognized Jewish homeland," said Cantor Kyle Cherry, the synagogue's religious leader. "I think that one of the greatest things about Israel is not that it is the Jewish state, but the fact that it is also a home to a great variety of peoples with myriad beliefs. Israel, while always a target for evildoers throughout the world, has been home these past decades to such a mixed society that there can be no wonder that its national anthem would be titled 'Hatikva'; which means 'The Hope'. And it is this hope that we gather to celebrate this year!"

Monthly Sunday morning Adult Education sessions will resume on October 21, from 10 a.m. to noon. Come and enjoy the showing of an award-winning documentary about Israel. Each Adult Ed session begins with a free bagel and dessert breakfast, sponsored by Shalom Jewish Funeral Home, 1528 Castle Hill Avenue. The sessions will continue on Sundays, November 11 and December 23 with topics related to Jewish traditions and practices for major life events. The Sunday series will then break for winter hiatus, resuming in March.

All of Temple Hatikva's services and activities are located at Bronx House, 990 Pelham Parkway South. For further information email templehatikva@aol.com, phone (917) 819-2456, its website at www.templehatikva.com or on Facebook.

Protect you identification; guard your Medicare card

When it comes to protecting you identity, guard your Medicare card like it's a credit card.

Give your Medicare Number only to doctors and other healthcare providers, insurers acting on your behalf, or trusted people in the community who work with Medicare.

To help protect your identity, Medicare is issuing new Medicare cards and mailing them to all beneficiaries. Your Medicare coverage and benefits will stay the same, but your new card will have a new Medicare Number that's unique to you instead of your Social Security Number.

When you get your new Medicare card, destroy your old Medicare card and start using your new card right away.

If you live in New York City, you should have gotten your new card already. If you haven't gotten it call 1-800-MEDICARE (1-800-633-4227).

If you're in a Medicare Advantage Plan (like an HMO or PPO), your Medicare Advantage Plan ID card is your main card for Medicare—you should still use it whenever you need care. And, if you have a Medicare drug plan, be sure to keep that card as well. Even if you use one of these other cards, you also may be asked to show your new Medicare card, so keep it with you.

Don't share your Medicare Number with anyone who contacts you by phone, email, or in person unless you've given them permission in advance.

Medicare, or someone representing Medicare, will never contact you for your Medicare Number or other personal information unless you've given them permission in advance or if you've called 1-800-MEDICARE and left a message or a representative said that someone would call you back.

A Medicare health or drug plan can call you if you're already a member of the plan. The agent who helped you join can also call you. If you join a Medicare plan, the plan will let you know how it will use your personal information.

If someone calls you and asks for your Medicare Number or other personal information, hang up and call Medicare at 1-800-MEDICARE.

If you suspect identity theft, or feel like you gave your personal information to someone you shouldn't have, contact the Federal Trade Commission at www.identitytheft.gov.

Brought to you by Montefiore Medical Group, R.A.I.N. and the Hartford Institute for Geriatric Nursing @ NYU, based on material from CMS, the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services.

Scavengers & Decomposers Weekend at Wave Hill

Wave Hill's The Boneyard

This is the weekend to get your hands dirty—literally—as you explore the process of decomposition at Wave Hill. Investigate the forest floor in the woodlands, handle real-life scavengers and decomposers, visit the Boneyard, see live vultures and even make wearable art inspired by soil-dwelling creatures. Something is rotting in Riverdale—and in your neighborhood, too!

Saturday, October 20; Sunday, October 21: Family Art Project: Wormy, Squirmy Decomposers Parade: Listen to storyteller Rama Mandel read Up in the Garden and Down in the Dirt, by Kate Messner, with art by Christopher Silas Neal, and hear about the critters at work in the cool damp earth beneath the ground. On a tall hat, make a dark and murky ecosystem of insects and decomposers, like earthworms, ants, protozoa and fungi. Then top it with a flower and march your decomposing troop in a fall parade. Free, and admission to the grounds is free until noon. Scavengers & Decomposers Weekend event.

Saturday, October 20; Sunday, October 21: In The Shop: 20% Off Recycled 'Decomposition' Notebooks. For Scavengers & Decomposers Weekend, browse creepy, crawly critters, books on composting and sustainable living and more! The Shop offers 20% off all 'Decomposition' notebooks this weekend. Michael Roger of Brooklyn New York creates these contemporary interpretations of traditional composition books, using 100% post-consumer-waste pages, with whimsical designs printed with soy ink. Scavengers & Decomposers Weekend event.

Saturday, October 20; Sunday, October 21: Decomposer Detectives Family Walks: Are you curious about worms, insects, fungi and other creatures that live on the forest floor? Grab a magnifying glass and join us as a Decomposer Detective! Learn all about how organisms help break down dead leaves, wood and other organic matter in Wave Hill's Abrons Woodland. Please wear closed-toed shoes and appropriate clothing for a woodland adventure! Appropriate for ages five and older with an adult. Free, and admission to the grounds is free until noon. Scavengers & Decomposers Weekend event.

Saturday, October 20; Sunday, October 21: Garden Highlights Walk: Join a Wave Hill Garden guide for an hour-long tour of seasonal garden highlights. Free, and admission to the grounds is free until noon.

Saturday, October 20: Decomposition Central: What do lowly millipedes, mushrooms and land mollusks have in common? They are star players on the decomposition squad that makes life on earth sustainable for all of us. Stop by Decomposition Central to observe scavenging dermestid (flesh-eating) beetles at work and try to reassemble a skeleton. Chat with entomologist Lawrence Forcella and naturalist Pam Golben as they de-mystify the decomposition process. Visit the Scavenger and Decomposer Petting Zoo to see and touch some friendly scavengers and decomposers, and observe scavenging dermestid (flesh-eating) beetles at work. Then pick up a self-guided garden scavenger hunt to look for—what else?—scavengers! Free, and admission to the grounds is free until noon. Scavengers & Decomposers Weekend event.

Saturday, October 20; Sunday, October 21: The Boneyard: Skulls, bones, teeth, shells, antlers—see what's left after an animal carcass decomposes. Meet Alex Minnot, an oddities expert and learn about osteology, the study of bones and skeletal elements. Team up to try to reassemble a skeleton! Free, and admission to the grounds is free until noon. Scavengers & Decomposers Weekend event.

Saturday, October 20; Sunday, October 21: Urban Composting and Worm Composting Demo: Find out how you can do some decomposing of your own at home, master composters from the NYC Compost Project hosted by the New York Botanical Garden. No space for a bin? Chat with the Organics Associates from DSNY's citywide Organics Collection Program to see if curbside organics recycling is available in your neighborhood. Free, and admission to the grounds is free until noon. Scavengers & Decomposers Weekend event.

Saturday, October 20: Wave Hill History Walk: Discover the fascinating history of Wave Hill's architecture and landscape on a walk with a Wave Hill Garden Guide. Hear about the people who once called Wave Hill home, among them Mark Twain, Theodore Roosevelt, Bashford Dean and Arturo Toscanini. Free with admission to the grounds.

Saturday, October 20; Sunday, October 21: Vulture Culture: A Live Bird Presentation: Often misunderstood, vultures and other scavengers are essential members of nature's clean-up crew, eating dead animals and halting the spread of dangerous diseases. Observe vultures and other scavenging birds of prey and hear about their adaptive (and somewhat cringe-worthy) behaviors with Brian Robinson of Robinson Wildlife Lectures. Free with admission to the grounds. Scavengers & Decomposers Weekend event.

Saturday, October 20: Gallery Tour: Learn about Glyndor Gallery exhibitions on a tour led by Wave Hill's Curatorial Fellow. In a new collaboration, Wave Hill is partnering with the American Society of Botanical Artists (ASBA) to produce and host ASBA's 21st Annual International. ASBA's mission is to provide a thriving, interactive community dedicated to perpetuating the tradition and contemporary practice of botanical art. This juried exhibition consists of two-dimensional original botanical art, including some specimens found at Wave Hill. In the Sunroom Project Space, Ashton Agbomenou's new project stems from his time in Wave Hill's 2018 Winter Workspace. Seeking synchronicity in the African diaspora, Agbomenou constructs visual mementos through his collage-like, layered-painting process, drawing inspiration from Wave Hill's natural resources. Bronx-born, Dominican-American artist Yelaine Rodriguez works on a new series for the Sun Porch. Using photography, video and performance, Rodriguez creates a unique narrative that examines self-identity and draws inspiration from the colors and textures in nature and from her experience of Wave Hill's landscape during the 2018 Winter Workspace program. Free with admission to the grounds.

Writer penned romance novels under Japanese name

by Bill Twomey

Some people can sit in front of a blank piece of paper for hours before deciding how to word something while others seem to be born with a pen in their hands. Winnifred Eaton belonged to the latter group and had her first story published in a Montreal newspaper when she was only fourteen years old. She followed in the footsteps of her older sister, Edith, who wrote under the pen name Sui Sin Far and specialized in stories about Chinese Americans. The sisters came from a large family of fourteen children. Their mother was Chinese and their father was a well-traveled British merchant. The older sister, Edith, was born in England and wrote about the downtrodden Chinese, but Winnifred was born in Montreal, Canada and followed a different course in writing especially when she was pursuing an American audience.

The Chinese were looked down upon in America and generally faced blatant bigotry. Winnifred was born in 1875 and the Chinese were treated with utter scorn by most Americans at that time as they feared losing jobs, especially railroad work, to the Chinese who could find only the most menial jobs and were willing to work long hours for very little pay simply to survive.

This general trend was bolstered in 1882 when the "Chinese Exclusionary Act" was passed by Congress. It forbade the Chinese from entering the United States and in some cases forced others to leave. The act remained in effect until 1943.

After moving to America, Winnifred feared potential readers would avoid her magazine articles and books if they knew she was half Chinese so she simply took on a Japanese persona with the pen name Onoto Watanna. Americans were far more accepting of the Japanese and Winnifred soon became a raging success.

She specialized in romance novels generally featuring American men and Japanese women. Her first book was titled "Mrs. Nume of Japan" and was published in 1899. The novel showcased two couples, one American and one Japanese, who got romantically involved and ended up switching partners creating all sorts of confusion at a time when races rarely mixed.

Onoto moved to New York in 1901 and settled in the Bronx on Edenwood Avenue (now Grand Avenue) just north of Fordham Road. She published "A Japanese Nightingale" in 1902 and it was a huge success. That same year "The Wooing of Wisteria" was released and new books would follow in rapid succession. She was also writing for a variety of magazines at the time and was a very busy author. She did, however, find time to marry Bertrand Babcock and have four children while still turning out novels on a regular basis.

When that marriage ended in divorce she remarried and moved to Calgary, Canada with her second husband, Francis Reeve. She continued to write romance novels with an Orient flavor but also veered into an entirely different backdrop. Her 1923 novel, "Cattle," is set on her husband's ranch in Alberta, Canada with Caucasian characters. She would later return to America to write screenplays. She was a contributing writer to many plays including "The Phantom of the Opera" and "Showboat."

She returned to Canada in 1932 and founded the Little Theater movement as well as becoming the president of the Canadian Authors Association. Her husband made a substantial donation to the University of Calgary in her name for construction of the Reeve Theater after her death. She passed away from a heart attack on April 8, 1954 in Butte, Montana on her way home from a California vacation.

Bronxites share content on BronxNet HD channel

Bronxites will be able to explore the wonders of the Bronx in vivid detail when they tune in to great new programs made by Bronxites for Bronxites such as Uptown NYC, This is Rock & Roll, and New York City Latino on BronxNet's new HD channel.

The producers of those shows are among dozens of independent Bronx producers who are reaping the benefits of having their TV shows broadcast on BronxNet Channel 68, the Bx Omni channel, on the Optimum system in the Bronx. The channel was recently converted from standard definition (SD) to high definition (HD), which means viewers will experience an enhanced picture quality and have a more immersive experience when they tune in. While BronxNet's facilities were already HD native, the channel required activation by Optimum to broadcast in that format. The recent activation by Optimum resulted in BronxNet's second HD channel on the Optimum system.

"The BronxNet board of directors is committed to providing Bronx audiences with channels delivered in a broadcast quality, and with a technical standard, no less than any other channel on any TV or cable system," said BronxNet chairman Paul T. Gentile.

In addition to Uptown NYC, This is Rock & Roll, and New York Latino, other new, innovative programs on Channel 68 include, Caribbean CxO, Section 420: Talkin' Yankees, Healthy Living in the Bronx, Logic & Chaos TV, BXTRA, The Miss Francois Show and Cultura Libre. Long-time programs by veteran producers include Crossover Showcase TV and Albanian TV.

For a schedule, visit www.bronxnet.org, choose "Watch" and click on Bx Omni.

"The launch of the new HD channel represents our commitment to bringing you continuous media access upgrades as we provide you with new technology, new programs, new production workshops and endless opportunities to share your vision and learn about our borough on your channels," said BronxNet executive director Michael Max Knobbe.

Bronx residents interested in learning to produce content for Channel 68 or other BronxNet channels should visit www.bronxnet.org for information on production certification classes.

BronxNet is the independent not-for-profit organization serving the people of the Bronx with media production training, access to technology, and television channels. BronxNet programs six channels – 33, 34, 35, 36, 37 and 38 on the Verizon Fios system and six channels – 67, 68, 69, 70, 951 and 952 – on the Optimum system in the Bronx. BronxNet's ultra-local programming helps connect the Bronx with the world while our training programs and partnerships are a part of community development through media. Every day kids can explore more 100 friendly larger-than-life scarecrows set among nearly 1,000 rare and unusual pumpkins and gourds; pot up a spooky black coleus to take home; put on your own haunting show with insect, owl, and scarecrow puppets; and investigate a mysterious Victorian playhouse to learn all about bats.

Georgia O'Keeffe and Hawai'i, through October 28: Inspired by O'Keeffe's unique style of representing close-up views of flowers and fruit, children will investigate botanical specimens and create art.

Meet at the Reflecting Pool at the Leon Levy Visitor Center.

For nearly four decades Poet Laureate and Pulitzer winner W.S. Merwin has been preserving native plants and palms at his home, the Merwin Conservancy, a 19-acre site on Maui with the most comprehensive private collection of palms in the world. In interviews filmed in Hawai'i, France, and on several reading tours, Merwin's environmental activism and poetry are on full display, with humorous insights into the human experience and the relevance of poetry in our lives today.

Sunday, October 21; 2:30 p.m.: Join a NYBG Guide for this walking tour highlighting fruits and berries from our trees and shrubs as you immerse yourself in all the spectacular colors of the Fall season. Meet at the Reflecting Pool at the Leon Levy Visitor Center.

Warning - Important Information

California law provides that, for purposes of division of property upon dissolution of a marriage or domestic partnership or upon legal separation, property acquired by the parties during marriage or domestic partnership in joint form is presumed to be community property. If either party to this action should die before the jointly held community property is divided, the language in the deed that characterizes how title is held (i.e. joint tenancy, tenants in common, or community property) will be controlling, and note the community property presumption.
You should consult your attorney if you want the community property presumption to be written into the recorded title to the property.

Letitia James Warns Consumers About Classified Ads

Toll numbers may be a direct line to trouble.

Classified ads are intended to help people by facilitating communication and advertising available services; however, some of the hotlines & service numbers in classifieds actually hurt the people who rely on them by cheating them of their hard-earned dollars. "Most newspapers print a disclaimer in their classified ad section to warn readers about numbers that are a direct line to trouble. Any number starting with 900, 540, 595 or 871 charges a fee beyond a local call. In some instances, ads initially advertise calls to a local number, but then direct callers to a second number starting with one of the paid exchanges. "Consumers must also question the legitimacy of vague classifieds because they too could be a scam. Before responding to an ad, consumers should verify the source of all information & always be wary about sending money or signing a contract with an unknown party."

Medallists from the
USATF New York
Meet #3

Rising New York
Road Runners Meet

Velocity Track Club medalist from the 2018 USATF New York XC Meet #3 and at the NYRR Meet.

VELOCITY HIGHLIGHTS

WINSTON DINKINS PRESIDENT / HEAD COACH

On Saturday, October 6th, 2018 Velocity Track Club New York competed in the 2018 USATF New York Cross Country Series – Meet #3 and on Sunday, October 7th we competed in the Rising New York Road Runners at Harry Murphy Cross Country (Van Cortland Park). Both meets were well organized, and the competition was good!

The USATF New York Meet #3 at Van Cortland Park was the County Challenge. Athletes were assigned to a team based on their Borough/County. They used the traditionally XC (Cross Country) scoring to determine the winning Borough/County in each age group. The Borough/County with the most age division wins will receive a championship trophy. *Second place finishes will be the tie breaker.

There were approximately 470 athletes competing in this competitive event. The top 15 in each age division received medals (*15-16, 17-18, and open/masters was scored as one age division). In the Novice race, the top three received awards. Velocity Track Club had 14 athletes competing and we were blessed to receive 7 medals. This was a great accomplishment, but more important, we had 5 athletes break their personal record. With continuous improvement, we will have more athletes earning medals.

The following VTC athletes received a medal: Cameron Joseph, Ryan Joseph, Sariah Caldwell, Pierce Parker, Sachin Ramharak, Brandon Peart, Devin Brown. The following athletes PR: Tierra Jackson, Ryan Ramsarran, Sachin Ramharak, Julian Caldwell and Devin Brown!

At the Rising New York Road Runners at Harry Murphy Cross Country meet. There were 3 stages of competition. Stage 1, which are ages 2 to 10 with non-competitive untimed shorter distances. Stage 2, which consist of ages 8 to 18 with non-competitive untimed medium distances (1mile). Stage 3, which consist of ages 12 to 18 with competitive timed longer distances (1.5 mile). However, all stages were competitive and the best of all, the races were free. Most XC races cost approximately $6 per race. Thank you! New York Road Runners for providing free races for our youth!

Our next meet will be on Sunday, October 14th, the 2018 USATF New York XC Series #4. Come out to see your future Olympians!

Velocity Track Club New York is a 501c3 Non-for profit. 100% of your donation will go towards helping our children. Help Support our youths, so that they can continue to do great things! For additional information, you can go to our web site Velocitytrack.org or contact Coach Winston Dinkins at 914-441-6196 or via email watclt@aol.com.

DIVISION HIGHLIGHTS

The Middletown Animal Clinic Ramblers were defeated by the Parq Sports Bar & Rest. Crusaders 20-12. Defensive player of the game for the Ramblers goes to Ayden “Antman” Ayala as the CEO of the Warriors League, Joe Desimone, gave him props for making great form tackles. Defensive Line-man of the game goes Andrew “Hulk” Colon as he had a significant tackle in the backfield. Offensive Line-man of the game goes to Evin “MTA” Noriega and Kwame “Groot” Josie providing enough blocking to give the QB enough time to pass the ball a couple of times. Offensive players of the game are Tristan “Juju” Robson ran for 70 yards and completed 2 TD passes to Tyler “Terminator” Laniyan. Coach Tim was much impressed with the team’s 2nd half effort on both sides as they made a comeback to keep them in the game. His post-game comments pointed out that the Ramblers, although are 0-3, we are a much better team now than when they began the season.

Outstanding players for the Crusaders are Brayden Lungo, Aaron Valentin, Marcus Victoria, and Nasir Delgado. Ryan Weber added a catch to his growing record of accomplishment on the football field.

The Cardinal Spellman HS Spartans and the O’Connor Carpets Blue Devils had the off date.

DIVISION HIGHLIGHTS

In a battle of the Funeral Homes, The Schuyler Hill FH Javelins beat the Ralph Giordano FH 25-6. For the Javelins, the speedy Devon Deleon added to his TD count by scoring first on a 50yard screen pass. QB Andrew Lane scored next on a keeper play. He also threw a 50 yard bomb to receiver Christian Bangora, who is having a breakout season. Once again the O-line of Ishmael Shaheed, Jayden Brown, Aiden Castellanos, Liam Conlon and Malik González provided the protection and opened huge holes. On the defensive side, Kenny Clarke and Matthew Familia made great tackles. The team defense has been super this season. Devon Deleon added a pick 6 to end the game. Jayden Cyprian, Liam Conlon, Kenny Clarke, Ismail Shaheed and newcomer Gabriel Green were tough to handle all day. For the Saints Tyler Bobe, Mykal Callender, Ethan Cruz, Kiel Leonard, Richie Salonia and Adriel Sánchez were outstanding.

The Jimmy Ryan’s Bronx Grill Rams defeated the Scavello’s on the Island Black Knights. The Rams were able to defeat a very improved Black Knights team 21-0. The O-line lead by Center TY Diaz and linemen Tommy Forliano, Frankie Serrano, Jayden Diaz, Daniel Ortiz, Matthew Rodriguez and Xavier Holloway kept QB Nicolas Bustamante well protected during the game and allowed him to throw for 2 TD passes to wide receiver Kenneth Prince and TE Frankie Serrano. The third Td was by QB Nicolas Bustamante on a 2 yard run. Extra points were converted by RB’s Maximus Rivera and D’Angelo Cabrera.

On defense the linebackers and corners were exceptional. A fumble recovery by Matthew Rodriguez set up the Rams first score and D’Angelo Cabrera recovered a backwards pass missed by the Black Knights on a heads up play. Ephram Spillat and Anthony Hernandez did a great job containing outside as well as OLB Deon Gonzales who played great on both sides of the ball. RB Luis Ferran missed his first game of the season but it’s expected back for next week’s game.

Another tough games awaits the Rams against a well-coached Saints team.

For the Knights, the Rams defense was too tough for the offensive line to handle. Jayden Ramirez gave it his all however with some big runs. The o-line needs to improve for next week’s tough game. The defense tried hard but the Rams just played better. Stanley Cruz had a fumble recovery and Jayden Ramirez did his best, playing hard all game. Ndubusi Nwosu put pressure on the Rams most of the game as well, but it just wasn’t enough. Ndubusi, Jared Pérez, Denzel Collado and Sean Vega played tough on the D-line.

The Greenwich Shipping Services 14u Warriors had an off-day.

This was a hard fought game by both teams that resulted in a 1-1 tie. Scoring for International Caterers with a rocket from the right side was Gianna Cannella. Also playing strong upfront were Lailani Melendez and Lilly Kavanagh who both narrowly missed cashing in on great chances they created. In the midfield Enzo Batista and Elijah Figaroa were able to clog things up and prevent counterattacks. The defense was led by Christian Flores and Viviana Romeo, each finding the right opportunities to make some runs. Another strong performance in goal by Anthony Monti.

Global was led on offense by Sean Kiely who scored 2 goals and Conor Guarnieri who scored one. Alyssa Esposito, Kayden Picard and Emily Negrón kept the pressure on offensively while Rocco Iannaccone and Valentina Desantis Locked down the defense. Tyler Chung again was fantastic in goals only allowing one goal which was the only one allowed this year.

International Caterers vs.
ESU Events From 9/30

Another week, another hat trick for Christian Flores who played next level soccer in leading International Caterers to a 3-1 win! Also playing strong upfront and just missing on a couple opportunities were Leilani Melendez and Lilly Kavanagh. The defense was anchored by Viviana Romeo, Gianna Cannella, and Isabella Mullomphy who each made great runs up the field at opportune times to create chances in the offensive half. In goal Anthony Monti continued his strong play by coming up with some huge saves. Great team win against a strong opponent.

MINORS

Conquest & Crowe vs
St. Benedict's K of C

For those of you following us, you know that this is 2 wins in a row for Conquest & Crowe. The team continues to show some amazing effort and team work. Wint Kennedy with a hat trick started our 3-0 lead, with beautiful assists by McKenna O'Sullivan-DelaTorre. Wint never gives up and it was seen today. Second half goals were scored by Sabrina Bacigalupo and Sofia Miles. Donovan Huesca, AnnaBella O'Sullivan-DelaTorre & Raelynn Melendez rounded out the defense to end the game with a final score of 5-0. Mario Impemba was back in the game this week, after his knee injury last week, and he played with all his "heart and knee." Keep it up Conquest & Crowe!!!

St. Benedict's was on the losing end of a 5-0 defeat. Despite the score, this team played really well and showed signs of improvement from past weeks. Jason D'Agostino was the defensive MVP and played his heart out. Playing strong in the midfield were Rocco Caputo, Natalya Franky, and Sophia Cifu who all contributed to good ball movement. Up front we created a few opportunities but couldn't get off a clean shot against a strong defense.

Spot on vs
Alfie's Place

Spot on kept their magnificent season going extending their record to a perfect 4-0 by defeating the division I leading Alfie's Place by a score of 5-0. Goals were scored by Irvin Aguilar, Giorgio Giacinto, and Rich Guarnieri while lots of offensive pressure was applied by Ryan Kiely, Max Smith, Ethan Chung, Lauren Esposito, and Jacob Smith. Defensively, Grace Abraham, Noel Garcia and Autumn Feurst held back a solid opposing offensive attack.

INTERMEDIATES

Brewski's vs
Cardinal Spellman

Defense once again was the theme of the October 7th game involving Cardinal Spellman and Brewski Bar and Grill. Both teams made tremendous plays but Spellman wound up on top 3-1. The game was tight throughout the first half until William Schwartz scored on a free kick. Moments later, goaltender Gabriel Ramirez made 2 sensational stops, ending with a diving play to end the Brewski threat. Meanwhile the defensive was aggressive and consistently kept the ball out of Brewski's offensive end. William Gonzalez, Aaden Castillo, Dylan Rosado, Jayden Vayas, and Pierce Brogan hustled after every loose ball. Ethen Mella continued his extraordinary defense work by stopping many of Brewski's drives. Dylan Rosado, while playing mid-field, started several offensive drives. Meanwhile, the offense kept driving the ball up the field. Ryan-Kyle Yap, Aaron Diaz, Christos Argyros, and Tristan Strand started several fast breaks and Chris Wisniewski aggressively worked to keep the ball near the Brewski's goal. Midway through the second half, William Schwartz made a cross pass to Christos Argyros, who drilled it into the goal. A few minutes later, Christos Argyros passed to Tristan Strand who scored Spellman's final goal.

Brewskies Bar and Grill still had high expectations entering into the game with Cardinal Spellman this weekend, but had a disappointing 3-1 loss to the Cards. The Brewskies offense led by David Pemberton, Salif Kone, Jayden Piparo and Marjo Noka, played hard and kept Cardinal Spellman on their toes in the first half. Salif Kone had a couple of breakaway moments but couldn't get the goal. David Pemberton also helped with the defense as well as Daniel Lopez, Miguel Ramieréz and Troy Carillo, by holding off several strong attacks by the Cardinal offense and entered into halftime with the score 1-0 in favor of the Cards. Richie O'Flanagan had another great game as the goalie for the Brewskies by blocking several incredible shots. In the second half, the Cards were able to add two more scores against the Brewskies defensive line. David Pemberton made it close by adding a goal on a free kick, but the Brewskies ran out of time before they could score again.

Ohana vs

P. Hegarty Builders

Ohana was short on players this week and ultimately made it a tough outing playing with only 10 players throughout the game. Offensively the team was led by Andrew Jones, Matteo Marrone, Angelo Stefanizzi and Brian Jurado. Goalie Aiden Van Bomel made several stops during the game. Defensively Jeremiah Caimares, Christopher Jones, Abraham Nash, Vittorio Ricco, and Luca Torres played an awesome defensive front that kept the game close by the score of 1-0. Ohana played their hearts out on both sides of the field but lack of substitution took its toll. P. Hegarty managed to score a late goal in the second half and ultimately took the win by the score of 2-0. Coach is very proud of the effort that the team portrayed today..hustle and willingness to leave it all out on the field is what this beautiful sport calls for. Ohana Japanese Rest. is looking forward to next week when they meet up against Cardinal Spellman in a morning event.

GIRLS MAJORS

Capital Shield vs
Dr. Ken Gonoud

The first game of the day started under an overcast sky and a slight mist. Capital Shield would start the scoring on a scramble in front of the net. Allison Conde and Adriana Carbajal did all they could to keep the ball in Capital's zone. Dr. Ken had multiple chances in the first half to tie the score but couldn't get a bounce to go their way. Even though Dr. Ken won the ball possession game in the first half they found themselves on the wrong side of a 2-0 deficit at the end of the half. Kaitlyn Tague and Catrina Porter played great games in the defensive zone keeping Capital off the scoreboard in the 2nd half. Once again Gabriella Dinino played both ends of the field, at times coming out of nowhere to stop a scoring chance. One of her clearing blasts found the leg of her sister Nicolette who made a perfect cross to Suzy Malshyti, Suzy placed a one timer in the back of the net. The game was back and forth with a couple of game saving plays by goalie Angelina Pando that kept the score 2-1. In the waning minutes a clear off a volley from Tori Anderson bounced high above the goal, Nicolette Dinino was able to jump higher than the Capital goalie and get enough of her head on the ball for it to get over the goal line to tie the match and end the game in a 2-2 tie.

Capital Shield Agency ties 2-2. Goals scored by Sia Karampimperis and Charlizé Apunte. Outstanding play by Julianna Rachiele and Olivia Iodice.

BOYS MAJORS

Ann Clare's vs
Stans Sports Bar

AnnClares began the day without several key players and they were ultimately forced to play with 10 players and no substitutions. The offensive front was led by Darin Jurado, Ryan Picard, and Nicolas Armenta. Midfielders Aiden Osmanovic and Giuseppe Benvenuto assisted in the ball movement throughout the field. Ann Clares opened up the scoring when Ryan Picard scored with a shot to the right post. Midfielder Aiden Osmanovic assisted in the goal. Ann Clares made it 2-0 when striker Darin Jurado scored with a nice assist from Nicolas Armenta. Before the half, Stan's Sports Bar made it a close game when they scored their first goal. It remained 2-1 until the latter part of the game when Stan's Bar tied the score, 2-2, with minutes left to the game. In a last push for the win, Ann Clare's striker Darin Jurado scored the winning goal with an assist from mid fielder Aiden Osmanovic thus giving AnnClares catering a solid 3-2 win. Defensively Solomon Smith led a consistent defensive approach along with Conor Picard, Ernest Beam and Ryder Calderon. Solomon Smith played a very solid game along with Goalie Geovanny Rodriguez.
